2.0 CLASSIFICATIONS

2.1 Scholastic Marching World Class (PSW) ensembles demonstrate a high degree of advanced development. All of the performers contribute to the consistent high levels of performance being demonstrated. World Class ensembles are trendsetters in the indoor percussion activity. Programs are unique and innovative and these components are important at this level. Some very sophisticated challenges will be placed on the performers.

2.2 Scholastic Marching Open Class (PSO) ensembles have some experience in the indoor percussion arena. Open Class ensembles have several members who understand the skills required to perform intermediate levels of playing and movement. Here is where the intermediate student explores new challenges through performance and realizes a greater sense of achievement as each more complex skill is learned.

2.3 Scholastic A Marching Class (PSA) ensembles are the younger, less developed participants. Here is where the beginning student discovers the joy of performing and realizes the sense of achievement as each skill is learned.

2.4 Scholastic Concert World Class (PSCW) is for those scholastic ensembles who wish to concentrate on the percussive element only. Instrumentation must be oriented to the performance of concert percussion. Movement will be permitted in order to allow performers to change equipment or to allow for better presentation of musical performance only. One student conductor is allowed in the concert classes. This is not a marching/visual class. Credit will be given for musical elements only. These performers are experienced and fully trained. Trend setting programs and performance levels are often displayed.

2.5 Scholastic Concert Open Class (PSCO) is for those scholastic ensembles who wish to concentrate on the percussive element only. Instrumentation must be oriented to the performance of concert percussion. Movement will be permitted in order to allow performers to change equipment or to allow for better presentation of musical performance only. One student conductor is allowed in the concert classes. This is not a marching/visual class. Credit will be given for musical elements only. Open Class ensembles have several members who understand the skills required to perform intermediate levels of playing.

2.6 Scholastic Concert A Class (PSCA) is for those scholastic ensembles who wish to concentrate on the percussive element only. Instrumentation must be oriented to the performance of concert percussion. Movement will be permitted in order to allow performers to change equipment or to allow for better presentation of musical performance only. One student conductor is allowed in the concert classes. This is not a marching/visual class. Credit will be given for musical elements only. A Class ensembles are for the younger, less developed participants. Here is where the beginning student discovers the joy of performing and realizes the sense of achievement as each skill is learned.

2.7 Independent Classes (PIW, PIO, PIA) uses the same criteria as the scholastic classes. (IPA uses the WGI PIW, PIO, PIA sheets for these classes). Independent groups competing in WGI must compete in the same respective class in IPA contests. Independent units can be reclassified at any time if deemed misclassified by the IPA Executive Board. Independent ensembles seeking membership in the Indiana Percussion Association, Inc. must provide documentation of legal residence in the state of Indiana and present themselves at all local and national level events as residents of Indiana, as well as bonafide member of IPA, Inc.

9.0 IPA INCLEMENT WEATHER/TERROR ALERT POLICY

9.1 In the event that a portion or all of the State of Indiana is struck by inclement weather on a day of a scheduled IPA competition(s), it may be necessary to cancel the competition(s) for the safety and ultimate well being of our membership.

9.1.1 The decision to cancel a scheduled IPA competition may be made by the members of the IPA executive board if 50% of the scheduled units fail to attend the event. If however, a simple majority of the scheduled units are in attendance, IPA will allow the scheduled competition to take place. The final decision, though, will always rest with the administration of the host school. Once this decision has been made by the host school's administration, every attempt will be made to communicate this information to the directors of the competing ensembles in a timely fashion.

9.1.2 All competing members of IPA must have a "day of contest" emergency cell phone contact number on file with IPA. It is the responsibility of the contest host to communicate the decision of the host school administration to the directors of the competing ensembles via the emergency cell phone number contact. In the event an IPA competition must be cancelled, every effort will be made to communicate this decision to the membership via the official IPA Inc. web site. www.indianapercussion.org In case of any emergency cancellation of an IPA event, it is essential that IPA Inc. and its entire membership share the responsibility of communication and cooperation needed to insure the safety, well being, and convenience of our entire membership.

9.1.3 Those ensembles that are scheduled to participate in an IPA Inc. competition but are unable to fulfill their performance responsibility due to inclement weather or terror alert status, are required to submit a letter of explanation from their building administrator or school superintendent explaining that their absence was the result of a school administrative decision. The letter must be written on school letterhead and submitted to IPA Inc. within one week of the event. Units will not be allowed to participate further in IPA events until the letter is received by IPA Inc.

9.1.4 Those ensembles that are scheduled to participate in an IPA Inc. competition, but are unable to fulfill their performance responsibility due to inclement weather and/or terror alert status, will have the opportunity to enroll in any other IPA Inc. scheduled event without fee or penalty.

9.1.5 Units choosing to exercise the option outlined in rule 9.1.4 will automatically be scheduled to perform at the beginning of their respective class based on the post mark date of the units original membership application.

9.1.6 When a unit's participation in an IPA Inc. event is cancelled due to inclement weather and/or terror alert, that unit's State Preliminary performance time will be determined by averaging the remaining two highest scores from their competitive season.

9.1.7 If a unit is unable to meet the two show minimum requirement for the State Preliminary seeding process, IPA Inc. will determine that unit's State Preliminary performance time based on the raw score established by the group during the current competitive season.

9.1.8 Units that are unable to attend any IPA Inc. scheduled events due inclement weather and/or terror alert, will be schedule at the beginning of their respective class based on the post mark date from units original membership application.
